

Jemelene Wilson

Writer*Speaker * Listener

Live Gently * Love Passionately

Meet Jemelene

It took Jemelene a while to break out of the identity box built by others to find freedom to live loved.

She's been married to her husband Russ for over 30 years and has raised two children of her own while helping many more through foster care.

Jemelene will serve your audience laughter, tears, and fresh hope for a stronger faith. Her listeners will find connections to their own struggles and triumphs.

Jemelene has spoken at retreats, conferences, and multiple women's events over the past 25 years. Her stories are filled with humor because let's face it, real life can be really funny.

Signature Message

Love and forgiveness go hand in hand. When we learn to identify love, forgiveness becomes attainable. Jemelene's message will bring your audience freedom in what God has already given. Mama Jem is a storyteller who uses her words to paint pictures. She has chronicled her journey through foster care, adoption, infertility, grief, cancer, and community tragedy through her website as well as other publications for several years.

Jemelene will bring a personal message of hope that will resonate your audience, but especially those who have felt stuck by the expectations of family, society, and the church.

Testimonial

As a conference director for many years for both large men's, women's and leadership events I often sought out speakers that inspire, challenge and love well. You will find all of this in Jemelene Wilson. Jemelene is an avid writer and blogger, often impacting our community with her insight and encouragement. She is a confident and seasoned public speaker. Jemelene will capture and keep her audience and, with a mother's heart, she will pack your guests a reflective lunch to nourish their heart and soul for the ride home. She is a lover of Jesus and His word, directing people to their identity in Christ and inspiring others to go deeper, to think deeper and most of all to lock arms with others to build faith and share life. Many call her "Jem" for short. That is what she is...a gem. I am pleased to recommend her for your next speaking engagement. She will honor you, His presence and the word He has placed in her heart to share.
